

Edit the Passage | Grammar Worksheets for Classes 9 and 10

The following passage is not edited. There is an error in each line. In the space provided write the error and the correction.

Shaw took the title for his play Pygmalion from the ancient Greek legend for the famous sculptor naming Pygmalion who could find nothing good in women and, as a result, he was resolved to remain unmarried. However, one day he was carving an ivory statue of a woman that was so beautiful and so perfect for he fell in love with his own creation. So he prayed for Aphrodite to bring the statue to life. When he reached home, for his amazement, he found that his wish had fulfilled and he proceeded to marry the statue, what he called Galatea.

Answers

	Error
Correction
Shaw took the title for his play Pygmalion from	for	of
the ancient Greek legend for the famous sculptor	for	of naming Pygmalion who could find nothing good in women	naming	named
and, as a result, he was resolved to remain unmarried.	was resolved	resolved
However, one day he was carving an ivory statue of a woman	was carving	carved
that was so beautiful and so perfect for he fell in love	for	that
with his own creation. So he prayed for Aphrodite	for	to
to bring the statue to life. When he reached home, for his	for	to amazement, he found that his wish had fulfilled and	had fulfilled	had been fulfilled
he proceeded to marry the statue, what he called Galatea.	what	which